Efraim Nabatoff is a 63-year-old, highly talented fine artist and sculptor battling a life-threatening blood cancer called Myelofibrosis. His best hope of a cure is a blood stem cell or marrow transplant. However, he does not currently have a match in his family or the worldwide marrow registry.

Because tissue type factors needed for a match are inherited, Efraim's best chance of finding a donor are among those of Ashkenazi and Sephardic Jewish ancestry, and specifically with a genetic heritage from Czech Republic, Slovakia, Romania, France, Russia and Israel.

You could be Efraim's life-saving hero without even knowing it! All it takes is a swab of your cheek to find out if you are a match for him or another patient in need.

Swab for Efraim @

Yeshivat Noam

Bnai Mitzvah Chessed Fair

Tuesday February 6th, 7:30-8:30 PM

Joining the registry is as easy as a simple swab of your cheek. Eligible donors must be between the ages of 18-35 and in general good health, meet the guidelines and be willing to donate to any patient, at any time, worldwide.
